Devil's advocate

The Reds have marched on down to Boat Quay.

Man U supporters who have longed for a watering hole post-Devil's Bar can now turn to The Manchester United Café Bar. The screenings on game nights are its main draw, but the merchandise is also a plus. Even if you're not a fan, just enjoy the food and drink. Its signature Red Devil is a potent mix we call "the Long Island Tea from Hell", but line the guts with the juicy soft-shelled crab or fish and chips first. The mood is friendly but to be safe, we suggest Liverpool fans never walk alone down there.
